Animals may move from show to show or may return to their usual premise of residence without triggering a 13 day standstill provided they are kept in separate facilities under an authorised separation agreement with SGRD. In all case the standstill period for pigs is 20 days.

The EID can be contained in a tag, a bolus (an identifier in a container that is swallowed and stays in the animal's stomach) or a pastern tag (band around the animal's lower leg). Sheep identified for slaughter under 12 months of age require a single electronic slaughter tag which contains the flock number only.

Goats are required to be double tagged.

Sheep and goats born after 18.1.2008 and before 31.12.2009 must be identified with 2 means of identification (2 official ear tags or 1 ear tag and 1 tattoo or solely, in the case of goats, one official ear tag and a stern tag) bearing the same number. Older animals born prior to 18.1.2008 and not already officially identified are now also subject to double identification. However, in the case of animals being born prior to 9.7.2005, this will only apply when the animals are moved off the holding.
